

Payment Terms for Cruise Line

The payment terms for Holland and Seabourn are net 14 (14 days after the contract ends).

Oceania and Regent usually pay within 14 days, but they are very irregular.

NCL pays at the end of the month for the days that belong to that month.

If the NCL contract continues for a couple of days on the following month, they usually send the remaining payment a couple of days after the contract ends.

Celebrity and Royal payment terms are net 45. We have been advancing the payments within 2 weeks after the contract ends.

Many of the cruise lines have irregularities with their payment schedules, and sometimes they miss or delay a payment, so I must follow up with them.
